Dear: Sir/Ma'am

When I initially meet Mr. Lowell Evans I knew from the start he was a man of great purpose and vision. His standpoint and thorough knowledge of epilepsy along with understanding how epilepsy can affect people's lives was very clear. This is why I considered and elected to have Mr. Evans as a guest on "Joy In Our Town" WTPC/TBN Public Affairs program to address the issues we face concerning this illness. I was able to see that his love and compassion for helping people was the driving force for what he believes in most, which is advocating for every person that have epilepsy or know someone that have this neurological disorder. Most importantly Mr. Evans himself has experience epilepsy first hand. With the Lord's help Mr. Evans has faith to believe he can overcome the challenges brought on by his illness. Mr. Evans has found a balance by educating himself and others while living life with a purpose. His endeavors to bring awareness to epilepsy are very admirable. It is an honor to know Mr. Evans and I pray the Lord continues to bless him as he bless others.

Respectfully Yours,
